

Book Description:

A manhunt is underway for John Shannon, a petty criminal framed for murder. He thinks he's untraceable, but then a bizarre text message draws him to a meeting in the dark of night. A mysterious foreigner calling himself the identity Man offers Shannon a new face, new papers and a new life in a city destroyed by a terrible flood. The ruined city is crawling with corruption, but Shannon gets a good job and he meets a beautiful woman-it's an incredible chance to start again.

About Author:

Andrew Klavan has been nominated for the Mystery Writer of America's Edgar award five times and won twice. He is the author of several bestselling novels, including Don't Say A Word, filmed starring Michael Douglas, True Crime, filmed by Clint Eastwood, and Empire of Lies. He is currently writing a series of thrillers for young adults called The Homelanders. The first two novels in the series are The Last Thing I Remember and The Long Way Home. Klavan is a contributing editor to City Journal and his essays have appeared in the Wall Street Journal, the New York Times and the Los Angeles Times, among other places. His satiric video commentaries can be seen on PJTV.com.